GEN. FREMONT'S CARE OF HIS ARMY .-A good General takes good care of his soldiers, and in this respect General Fremont cannot be excelled. In proof of this, we have just seen two orders, given at headquarters to-day. The first is to provide every regiment in the Western Department with twelve of Irwin's camp cots, one of the best contrivances of the day for the comfort of the sick and wounded. They are LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS provided with straps, and so arranged as to take the place of "stretchers" on the battle field. They weigh but twenty pounds, and can be packed so closely that one man can carry six of them in his arms without difficulty. No one but a soldier can fully DR. C. being a regular Physician, with twenty years exclusive practice in the treatment of discusses of the EYE AND EAR, will be found fully qualified to estimate the value of such cots to a regiment on the march. They will prevent as much sickness as the hospital will cure; for to men just beginning to break down, a single night's rest, in a comfortable bed, is often enough to prevent a fever. As the cot takes the place of the "stretcher," and costs less than half, its introduction is in every way a gain.

The other order alluded to is for the proper burial of the dead. An arrangement has been entered into with John A. Smithers, undertaker, and sexton-for the Wesley an Cemetery, under which he will attend to the burial of all who die in the hospitals and camps of this vicinity, in a proper and becoming manner. A neat and strong coffin, a separate grave in a chartered cemetery. which can never be disturbed, and all the decencies of interment, are thus secured to every soldier who dies in or near St. Louis. An exact and perfect record will be kept in the cemetery books (which are models of accuracy) of every individual, his name, state, number of regiment. &c. A headboard will be placed at every grave, with the initials of the name, and a number corresponding with that on the record, so that the friends of the deceased may at any H.B. BRYANT, D. V. BELL, H. D. STRATTON.

time identify and remove the remains. This is as it should be, and it is proper to say that this whole arrangement had been ordered previously to the receipt of Secretary Cameron's order, on the same subject, and is due to the thoughtfulness of General Fremont. Perhaps the strictness of the barricade, of which we hear so much complaint, is in part explained by a desire to give personal attention to details such as the above. If so, whoever may find fault, the soldiers and their friends at home will thank him all the more; and if the exigencies of the service require him to take the field, he will find that his whole army are ready to be Fremont's Guards.—St. Louis

Perilous Adventure-A Boy Lost in "SPENCERIAN" PENMANSHIP. FOURTH LAKE .- About noon yesterday, Mr. John Kimhall, a moulder in Skinner's Foundry, with his son Martin, a boy about fourteen years old, and a man named Abraham Hommell, started in a sail boat from the foundry to cross the lake. They were going on a hunting excursion. Before reaching the middle of the lake, a squall struck them and capsized the bout. The wind continued blowing heavily, and the lake was rough. They succeeded in get ting the boat righted, the mast having heen removed, but could not get out the water. It soon overturned again. They then attempted to get on the bottom, when it once more righted, only to roll over with the next heavy wave, and right again with another. Thus for hours they were kept in a constant struggle for life. The water was cold, and the wind chilly. At the end of a couple of hours the boy, who had been hopeful while the men despuired of their lives, was completely exhausted. His father took him in his arms, and did everything in his power to save him, but after a time found he was dead. Still holding his lifeless boy, Kimball clung to the boat with for a term of years manager of Bachelor's world renown his companion, the wind slowly drifting them across the lake toward the farther shore. When within less than half a mile ! of the land, a heavy wave struck them, the hoat rolled over again, and the father, almost powerless with fatigue and benumbed with cold, lost hold of the body of his boy, which sank to the bottom. The boat with the two men reached the shore at about six o'clock, after they had been in the water six hours. Besides the exhaustion consequent upon continued physical exertion, and the effect of water and cold, they were severely bruised and lacerated by the sharp ! edges of the boat as it rolled over from

Iournal. PANIC IN THE SECEDED STATES .- The Philadelphia Press says ;

Late information, upon which we can rely, authorizes us to state that a general panic has taken place in the seceded states since Monday last. The preparations of the federal government to seize certain important posts on the southern coast, and the | Sardines, unprotected character of that coast, are among the chief reasons for this rapidly increasing feeling.

Davis and the confederated traitors having failed in their absurd demonstration on Washington, (which was, in fact, never real) are now losing the confidence of the troops gathered between Richmond and the federal capitol, and are dailey attacked with the ntmost bitterness by the people they have seduced into their conspiracy. It is a fact which events will soon establish, that thousands now in the rebet army are anxious to be taken prisoners by the American army, in order that they may be rescued from the fearful horrors under which they tre suffering. Nothing prevents an oniburst in favor of the Union in North Caroina, save the invasion of that state by the South Carolina troops; and such men as Holden and Morehead will undoubtedly speak out against the traitors the moment hey feel strong enough to do so.

Every dollar of gold and silver is caught up and hid away, and merchants and tradesmen only part with their goods for the pa per of the confederated government, and of the different state authorities, because they are compelled to yield.

DAILY GAZETTE.

GEN. FREMONT'S CARE OF HIS ARMY .-A good General takes good care of his sol-A good General takes good care of his soldiers, and in this respect General Fremont cannot be excelled. In proof of this, we have just seen two orders, given at head-quarters to day. The first is to provide every regiment in the Western Department with twelve of living camp cots, one of the best contrivances of the day for the comfort of the sick and wounded. They are provided with straps, and so arranged as to take the place of "stretchers" on the bat-tle field. They weigh but twenty pounds, and can be packed so closely that one man can carry six of them in his arms without difficulty. No one but a soldier can fully estimate the value of such cots to a regiment on the march. They will prevent as much sickness as the hospital will cure; for to men just beginning to break down, a single night's rest, in a comfortable bed, is often enough to prevent a fever. As the cot takes the place of the "stretcher," and costs less than half, its introduction is in every way a gain.

The other order alinded to is for the proper burial of the dead. An arrangement has been entered into with John A. Smithhas been entered into with John A. Smitters, undertaker, and sexton for the Wesleyan Cemetery, under which he will attend to the burial of all who die in the hospitals and camps of this vicinity, in a proper and becoming manner. A neat and strong coffin, a separate grave in a chartered cemetery, which can never be disturbed, and all the decencies of interment, are thus secured to decencies of interment, are thus secured to every soldier who dies in or near St. Louis. every soldier who dies in or near St. Louis. An exact and perfect record will be kept in the cemetery books (which are models of accuracy) of every individual, his name, state, number of regiment. &c. A headboard will be placed at every grave, with the initials of the name, and a number corresponding with that on the record, so that the friends of the deceased may at any time identify and remove the remains. time identify and remove the remains.

This is as it should be, and it is proper to say that this whole arrangement had been ordered previously to the receipt of Secretary Cameron's order, on the same subject and is due to the thoughtfulness of General Fremont. Perhaps the strictness of the barricade, of which we hear so much complaint, is in part explained by a desire to give personal attention to details such as the above. If so, whoever may find fault, the soldiers and their friends at home will thank him all the more; and if the exigencies of the service require him to take the field, he will find that his whole army are ready to be Fremont's Guards.—St. Louis

PERILOUS ADVENTURE-A BOX LOST IN John Kimball, a moulder in Skinuer's Foundry, with his son Martin, a boy about fourteen years old, and a man named Abraham Hommell, started in a sail boat from the loundry to cross the lake. They were going on a hunting excursion. Before reaching the middle of the lake, a squall struck them and capsized the boat. The wind continued blowing heavily, and the lake was rough. lake was rough. They succeeded in get ting the boat righted, the mast having been removed, but could not get out the water. It soon overturned again. They then attempted to get on the bottom, when it once more righted, only to roll over with the more righted, only to roll over with the next heavy wave, and right again with another. Thus for hours they were kept in a constant struggle for life. The water was cold, and the wind chilly. At the end of a couple of hours the boy, who had been hopeful while the men despaired of their lives, was completely exhausted. His father took him in his arms. and did every NIONE COSTS 25 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

When within less than half a mile of the land, a heavy wave struck them, the of the land, a heavy wave struck them, the boat rolled over again, and the father, al-most powerless with fatigue and benumbed with cold, lost hold of the body of his boy, which sank to the bottom. The boat with the two men reached the shore at about six o'clock, after they had been in the water six hours. Besides the exhaustion consequent upon continued physical exertion, and the effect of water and cold, they were severely bruised and lacerated by the sharp edges of the boat as it rolled over from

A party left early this morning to search for the body of the lost boy .- Madison

PANIC IN THE SECEDED STATES.—The Philadelphia Press says:
Late information, upon which we can rely, authorizes us to state that a general panic has taken place in the seceded states since Monday last. The preparations of the federal government to seize certain impor-tant posts on the southern coast, and the unprotected character of that coast, are among the chief reasons for this rapidly increasing feeling.

Davis and the confederated traitors baying failed in their absurd demonstration on Washington, (which was, in fact, never real) are now losing the confidence of the troops gathered between Richmond and the feder al capitol, and are dailey attacked with the utmost bitterness by the people they have seduced into their conspiracy. It is a fact which events will soon establish, that thousands now in the rebel army are anxious to be taken prisoners by the American army, in order that they may be rescued from the fearful horrors under which they are suffering. Nothing prevents an out-burst in favor of the Union in North Carolina, save the invasion of that state by the South Carolina troops; and such men as Holden and Morehead will undoubtedly speak out against the traitors the moment they feel strong enough to do so. Every dollar of gold and silver is caught up and hid away, and merchants and trades-men only part with their goods for the paper of the confederated government, and of the different state authorities, because they are compelled to yield.

SOUTHERN VIEW OF PEACE PARTIES.—We commend the following brief and pointed paragraph from the Memphis Avalanche of the 5th, to the consideration of every man and woman in the north who think and talk of peace, individually or in conventions.— It pronounces the peace parties in the federal states as " arrant humbugs," and adds: "They may hold their conventions; whine about peace, and pass their canting resolutions until doomsday, but will never effect a peace on their terms. They may lick the feet of the tyrant if it suits them-

Soon site I became blind an attempt to restore my sight by an operation was made in this sity, which was unsued cessful. Hearing of the reputation of Dr. Polsom, as a skillind sculist, I was induced to consult him, though with very little hopes of relief. The doctor proposed an operation, to which I consented, which resulted in almost Perfect Restoration of Sight to one eye. He afterwards performed an operation on the other eye with success. I am now enjoying the inestimable blossing of good viston, and a much better general state of health than before.

Movement on the Potomac.

Our troops at Arlington Heights, to the number of 20,000, moved forward from their advanced position, on Saturday, and occupied Manson's Hill, which is five miles from Fort Corcoran; and also to Fall's Church, which is a mile further from Fort Corcoran, and about four miles northwest of Manson's Hill. At the same time 20,000 troops crossed over the Potomae from Washington and occupied the places of those sent forward. The much boasted fort of the rebels on Munson's Hill was a sham. There were no con federate troops in sight from our most ad vanced posts. It is supposed that the confederates have abandoned their positions, numbers. Four or five days were occupied in this man ner, the civalry in the meanthm ocing occups d in for either for the purpose of drawing the federal troops within reach of their batteries, skirmishes ensued, in which both sides sufficed severely. or as a foint to attract attention while they attempt to cross the Potomac. . Intemperance in the Army.

In addition to having 6,000 of his heat troops ordered to Washington at a critical moment, Gen. Fremont appears to be hampered by inefficient and incompetent officers in his department, some of whom, it is said, are among his aids. Not long since Gen. Hurlbut lost the control of Northern Missou ri in consequence of drunkenness. It was the confusion incident upon this state of things which probably induced Price to march to Lexington at the time he did so. It now appears that Gen. Sturgis is in the habit of drinking to excess, and to that cause we may attribute his singular and inexplicable movements. A correspondent says he saw him at St. Joseph in the street drunk, and engaged in a noisy quarrel with some of the officers. This accounts for the fact that he was not on hand.

Intemperance in the army is the chief cause of all our disasters. There is not the slightest doubt that we should have won the battle at Bull Run if General Miles, the commander of the reserve, had not been been drunk. So we go on from one misfortune to another, caused by the demon intemperance, until it becomes absolutely necessary that something should be done to stop the evil, if we ever expect to put down the retellion. When general officers are permitted to indulge with impunity in this debasing habit, it is not at all surprising that those lower down, at the head of regiments and companies, should be led so placed as to commend the springs outside the inaway at the example of their higher officers. So it is no uncommon thing to see officers of the regular army mixing in scenes of debauchery in the streets of towns where they have commands, to the disgust of patriotic people, and to the great detriment of the morals of our young volunteers in the ranks. This must be reformed, and the place to begin is among officers high in command, and then let the reform be extended throughout the army, so that the whole shall be included, privates as well as riotic people, and to the great detriment of lykillel.

An officer in active service, above all other men, should have his raind clear and vigorous, on every occasion. The lives of his men depend upon his coolness and judgment; not only so, but great strategetic movements may be rendered entirely unsuccessful by the failure of a single regiment to act promptly and in the right direction at the proper moment; and this may be caused by the intemperate habits of the of-

`[From the Chicago Times] THE SMIGE AND SURRENDER OF LEXINGTON.

Full and Circumstantial Accounts of the Event.

QUINCY, Sept. 25, 1801.
The general features of the serge and surrender of Lexington, under the command of Colonel Mulligan, of Chicago, have already been published, but the accounts are so greaty incorrect and embrace so much of con-tradiction and misseut-brent, that a clear and detailed tradiction and misselement, that a clear and detailed description will not be considered amiss by the reading public. This I am prepared to goes.

Col. Mulligan's command arrived in Lexington on the 5th of September, consisting of the Irish brigade, 1,000 men; Col. Murchall's cavalty, 600 men; the thirteenth Mysouri regiment, 600 men; the Home Guards, 300 men, and a company of interpretalent ranges, rumbering 81 men. JOSIAH L. PICKARD. . FOR PRISON COMMISSIONER. HANS C. HEG. Movement on the Potomac.

Our troops at Arlington Heights, to the number of 20,000, moved forward from their advanced position, on Saturday, and occupied Munson's Hill, which is five miles from Fort Corcoran : and also to Fall's Church. which is a mile further from Fort Corcoran, and about four miles northwest of Manson's Hill. At the same time 20,000 troops crossed over the Potomac from Washington and occupied the places of those sent forward.

Col. Mulligan at once commend throwing up extension occupied the places of those sent forward. The much boasted fort of the rebels on Munson's Hill was a sham. There were no confederate troops in sight from our most advanced posts. It is supposed that the confederate troops in sight from our most advanced posts. It is supposed that the confederates have abandoned their positions, either for the purpose of drawing the federate troops within reach of their batteries, or as a feinf to attract attention while they attempt to cross the Potomac. It is an important movement, and must be followed by others of greater magnitude in a short time.

Intemperance in the Army.

In addition to having 6,000 of his best troops ordered to Washington at a critical moment, Gen. Framont appears to be hampered by inefficient and incompetent officers in his department, some of whom, it is said, are among his aids. Not long since Gen. Humbut lost the control of Northern Misson-ri in consequence of drankenness. It was the confusion incident upon this state of things which probably induced Price to march to Lexington at the time he did so, it now appears that Gen. Sturgis is in the habit of drinking to excess, and to that cause we may attribute his singular and inexplanted movements. A correspondent says he saw him at St. Joseph in the street drunk, and engaged in a noisy quarrel with drunk, and engaged in a noisy quarrel with some of the officers. This accounts for the fact that he was not on hand.

Intermerance in the army is the chief cause of all our disasters. There is not the slightest doubt that we should have won the battle at Ball Run if General Miles, the commander of the reserve, had not been been drunk. So we go on from one misfortune to another, caused by the demonintemperance, until it becomes absolutely necessary that something should be done to stop the evil, if we ever expect to put down the relegion. When general officers are permitted to include with impunity in this debasing habit, it is not at all surprising that those lower down, at the head of regiments and companies, should be led away at the example of their higher officers. So it is no uncommon thing to see officers of the regular srmy mixing in scenes of debauchery in the streets of towns where they have commands, to the disgust of patriotic people, and fo the great detriment of lightly an every direction where he chose. [From the Chicago Times.] THE SEIGE AND SURRENDER OF LEXINGTON.

Full and Circumstantial Accounts of the Event.

Full and Circumstantial Accounts of the Event.

Quince, Sept. 25, 1801.

The general features of the selge and surrender of Lexingren, under the command of Colonel Mulligan, or Chicage, have already been published, but the accounts are so gressly incorrect and embrace so much of contradiction and mistratement, that a clear and dended description will not be considered amiss by the reading public. This I am prepared to give.

Col. Mulligan's command arrived in Lexington on the 8th of Suptember, consisting of the Irish brigade, 1,000 men; Gol. Harshall's cavalry, 600 men; the thicteenth Missonir regiment, 600 men; the Honse Gunrel, 300 men; and a company of independent rangers, numbering 81 men. These, with teamsters and the usual at endants of the camp, swelled the force to 2 700 men, for which number daily rations wereissed. The arriblery consisted of five six pounders, and two or three old mortars, one of which dated back to 1812, and bore honocable scars received in the battle of Naw Orleans. The mortage were procured at Lexington, but were useless, as they required six-inch shell, of which none were to be had. The men were indifferently armed. The Irish brigade had a poor quality of musicots, the cavalry had nothing but sabres and horse-pistals, and the rest were short in all their equipments. With these drawbacks to contend against, they were full of fire and animation, and, with a leeling of de-perse eagerness, awaited the approach of a toe who brought with him almost overwhelming numbers.

The cavalry were ampleged during several days in foraging and conting through the neighboring country. Among the rebell institutions upon which they lived with effect were the banks of Lexington and Warrentown, from which 250,000 in spects was tuken Of this amount $90,000 was taken from one bank at Warrentown.

THE ADVANCE OF THE ENEMY.

While engaged in this profitable foraging, intelligence was received that Gen. Bains was advancing upon Lexington with a force of $1.00 men. Scouts were sent out to reconnoitre, who returned in haste, confirming the statement, having had an encounter with the rebel scouts, in which they lost one man, who was shot from his horse during the melee. Col. Mullsgan immediately collected his forage, selzed what provisions and implements of labor he could find, and made a rorsed march for the College Hill, an eminence situated about three miles from the town, near the river buff, on the summit of which stood a brick building, which was partially fertified for the protection of the troops that had for some time been in that vicinity provious to Col. Mulligan sarrival.

on much stood a first founding, which was partfully fertified for the protection of the troops that had for some time boon in that vicinity provious to Col. Multigan sarrival.

The enemy were only three miles in the rear when this point was gained, and immediately showed themselves in front of the fortifications, at a respectable distance. Col. Multigan detached two companies, and ordered a charge on a body of the compy who were ensonneed on a burying ground. Our men made a running charge under a heavy firing or muskutry, and routed the rebels from their position. They were two or abree hundred in number, acting as an ontpost, and as sone, as they received the charge they fell back into an edjacent cornfeid, where the main holy key. The aisrm was given and the corn-field bristled with armed soldlors in a moment, who swarmed forth and ell upon our little body of men like an avalanche. The latter retreated in gool order, and gained the core of the intreachments without serious loss. In the afternoon two companies of infantry and two companies of cavalry were sent-out to reconnuitre. They mot the enemy inforce, and had a skirmish which ended in our men retreating to the intreachments under a heavy fire of muskerry, which killed some and wound saveral.

The enomy made no further attack, but relied to a locality near the town known as the fair ground, where they camped and wasted reinforcements. They supposed, at this time, that the federal fires was nearly equal to their own, and did not dare attack it is a fortified position. They expected heavy reinfor cements, which numedately commenced coming in from all directions, in large and small bodies, and even singly and in parties of ton and twenty. In this way their numbers swelled rapidly.

in parties of ten and twenty, in parties of ten and twenty, hers swelled rapidly.

The contributions, Col. Mulligan at once commenced throwing up extensive fortifications. The embankment had been runaround the callege building, but the space was so small provisions were stored within the fort. The men constantly met the outposts of the rebel same, and skirtmisting and sharpsmooting were cesseless. After the first days engagement the entire force left the tents, and, after that, they slept in the trenches entirely.

On the 17th, four days after the seige commenced, Gen. Price sent in a flag of trucs. That personage had ar ived and taken command of the rebel army, which was now augmented to about $25,600 men. He demanded a surrender, and othered to allow the federal forest on march out under arms, taking their property and equipage with them. Col Mulligen attended by his officers, mot Gen. Price half way between the lines, and gave him an answer which could not be misconstructed. He was informed in courtous terms that the force which was opposed to him was such as rendered it useless for him to contend, and that they had no desire to fight him for the sake of shedding blood. All they wanted was the position, and he was free to go with his men where he chose. He bravely answered that never, so long as a drop of blood was left, would be surrender the post. They parted in a friendly manner, imburd with a mutual warse of rever that the fritunes of ware with a mutual warse of rever that the fritunes of ware with a mutual warse of rever that the fritunes of ware with a mutual warse of rever that the fritunes of ware with a mutual warse of rever that the fritunes of ware

They followed up this attack by a charge which took the building. There were a hundred wounded soldiers in it at the time, who were in charge of the Rev. Father Butler and Dr. Wher, surgeon of the brigade, both of whom were taken prisoners.

CHARDE OF THE MONTGOMEN GUARD.

COL Mulligan immediately brought his guns to bear on the building, and ordered a charge to capture the prisoners and remove the wounded. He called on a company of the 18th Missouri regiment to follow him, but they declined. He then sprang upon the earthworks, sword in hand, and called to the Montgomer, Guard. They awarned over the entankment at the first word of command, and with terrific shouts dished after their young commander. With a rush like the whirlying they stormed up the ascent which lied to the led with a shout, his sword waving high in air, and his tail form springing over the ground like an entelope.

The men pressed on with mad shouts, and fairly preciplinted themselves headlong into the treenth. Failing upon the ensury with a force that prostrated them to the earth, they haved them over the embankment, and fairly cleared the ditch, as well as the outside slope for a long way downward. The two guns were captured, and the cotors fell a prey to the victorious Irishmen.—The enemy sosing the danger of being their artillery, radicel, and charged up to the breastworks again. Multigan retired with his party, carrying with him two stands of colors, but was unable to bring off the guns. The enemy removed them to a more candons distance, and neither party occupied the home guards' work after that.

and neither party occupied the home guards' work after that.

THE WAYTH.

The morning of the 19th opened with cannonading and musketry. Mulligan wasted no powder, but gave orders to use it only when there was a chance of doing execution. The men were suffering greatly from thirst, but they gave up what water they had to the wounded. A number of men were killed by the enemy's sharp-shooters in the heroic attempt to get water from the outside springs for the wounded. The soldiers obtained what they could by wringing their blankets, which had been spread out to catch the rain. As the blankets had been slept in nor some months, the nature of the fluid will give an idea of the strait the men were in.

mad occur stept in our south omiths, the nature of the fluid will give an idea of the strait the men were in.

Col. Mulligan now exerted binnelf to the utmost to infase the addiers with the heroic forbearance which animated his own broast. He drank no more water than the rest, but endured the pangs of thirst with them. He was dressed in an old green jacket, and without an insigna of office about num, except his trasty sword, he statked here and there, regardless of danger, exposed to the bottest fire, and consiessly implacing the men to keep their courage up. He had so hope of victory, but his brave spirit revolted at the idea of surrender. He disdained to walk in the trenches, where safety was sure, but trod the high ground in the reat, where the bullets flow like hallstones, beedless of the entrouties of the soldiers, who followed his manly form with their wondering eyes, and sent up shouts of acclamation at his noble daring.

Through all this he was cool and determined. Not a breath of excitoment passed his lips, and his words were those which appealed to the understanding of erery man under his command. He was constantly under motion, passing shong the introchmonts from and to end, with commands and injunctions to all he met, and displaying a calm, imposing confidence in his bearing which was the strength of a thousand monin that trying hour: No wonder that his soldiers worsh pped him, and were perved to no his dueds of daring and andurance.

The enemy fixed hot shot at the college building, and set it on fire a number of times. The provisions were stored within it, and the whole force were compelled to

A flag of truce came in at 8 o'clock with proposition to allow time to remove the dead and biry them. The conditions were necepted, and a number of Mullian's men, assisted the enomy in collecting the dead, which were strewn in large pumbers on the slope of the hill The truce lasted until 12 o'clock, when the cannonading ned again with full rigor.

The rebels have declared their intention to obstruct the passage of the Potomac river, and have diligently erected batteries and cleared woods from the Virginia shores so as to command full sweep on that stream. So effectively have their measures been taken that vessels can no longer pass up or down without undergoing a destructive fre, and navigation is actually closed. The stoppage will probably be but temporary, for government will doubtless take immeliate measures for reopening navigation.

These officers were released on their paole of honor. They left Lexington on the norning of Thursday, coming in wagons overland to Sedalia and arriving there last night. To their knowledge, up to Thurs-day Price had not started any portion of his troops in this direction, though it could have been done and they have been in ignorant of it.

Capt. Fester was informed on Monday after the surrender, by the rebel quarter-master, that he had issued that day 34,000 rations. The Cantain thinks the force has been increased since then by accessions from the country round about, to at least 42,000. He reports that men are flocking in from all directions. He beard nothing definite in regard to McCulloch's whereabouts. The rebels told him his force was from 10,000 to 15,000 strong. The officers hink McCulloch is moving towards Jeffer-

Price's troops had devastated the country from a circuit of over twenty miles. Every barn, field and mill had been cleared of their contents. On Friday night the rebels made a demonstration as if they would cross at Point of Rocks. Col. Gray set a trap to catch hem; while awaiting their movements he discovered that signals were making, at a farmer's house on the Maryland shore. The inmates were accured and held. The rebel force did not attempt to cross last week.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 23. A messenger from Lima Creek last night says the rebel depredations and plunderings continue uninterrapted there, and that ev erything in the place has been carried off. It is reported that the secessionists are stealing the negroes of Union men. Sena-tors Miller and Vernon, and Rev. Mr. Arnest, a Methodist, are among the leading spirits. Gen. Pope and staff are here, and Col. Mulligan and his officers, it is rumored, will arrive to-morrow. 🔞

Captain Walter, of Col. Marshall's regiment, who was at Lexington, arrived this forenoon, having left there Thursday noon. All the federal officers were released on parole but Col. Mulligan, who refused to

Price probably has 35,000 men, and the rebels on Thursday confidently expected that Hardee with 8,000 or 9,000, and Mc Culloch with 10,000 men were within two or three days march of Lexington. It is not known whether signed them. Fourteen other brigadiers were made at the instance of Mr. Cameron, and were all from the regular army,

Col. Kelly of New York, who has been a prisoner in Richmond, had a long interview with the President and cabinet yesterday, and was enjoined not to make public his statement. He puts the rebel force in Virginia at three hundred thousand, and every thing else in proportion; but as he was close prisoner while in Richmond, it is difficult to imagine how he can be well informed.

Mr. Rister, a merchant from Pennsylvania, captured at Winchester ten weeks ago, was also released by order of J. P. Benja min, now acting rebel secretary of war. Bishop Pope will probably succeed Walker ar rebel secretary of war.

No more federal prisoners are to be sent to North Carolina, but 150 per day are sent to New Orleans and Charleston.

Wm. O'Donohne, orderly sergeant in the 69th, Meagher's company, with two others, escaped from Richmond on the 18th. They changed their clothing, got into a cellar of the prison warehouse, and when the guard had passed a comrade gave the signal, and they went to the gate, remaining there till the guard came round, and he thinking they were mere loafers, ordered them away. After enduring hardships and resorting to many stratagems, they arrived here night. In a room in the tobacco warehouse fifty prisoners without bedding, and food sent them unfit to eat. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. Detachments from Gen. Richardson's, Keyes' and Wadsworth's brigades, and also rom Gen. Franklin's division, are now oc cupying Munson's Hill.

Early this morning the pickets from Gen. Smith's division advanced to, and one hun-ired occupy Fall's church. Neither this nor preceding movements met with any opposition whatever, as the rebel army had on Friday night, retired from the whole line of their positions on the line of Washing-tou. Uptou's Hill, this side of Fall's courch, is necessarily included among the points now held by the federal forces.

The positions at Munson's and Murray's Hills afforded the rebels unobstructed views of all our fortifications and other defences. Herald's Special.—There was a long sea sion of the cabinet to-day. Gen. McClel lan was present.

Our pickets at Chain Bridge are gradually advancing and forging the enemy slowly wards Falls Church. The enemy is in great force there. Munson's and Mason's Hills have been evacuated by the rebels, and together with Upton's Hill, are nov occupied by our troops in large force, under Gen. McDowell. The rebels have retired about four miles back; all the rebel entrenchments fronting Arlington are aban-doned and now occupied by the federalists It is reported that Johnston, with 27,000 troops, is moving from Leesburg towards the river, and the rebels are pushing large forces towards the ferry, and in the neighborhood of Poolsville, and down the river towards Aquia Creek. The indications are that they will cross the river immediately. The weather is cold and prisoners state that the rebels are suffering from it.

There were no signs to show that they had ever mounted any guns. Our troops are now so employed as to show that they do not merely intend to temporarily occupy their present positions. The advance of Gen. Smith upon Fall's Church from Chain Bridge was accompanied by events of the most deplorable character. By some unaccountable blander Col. Owen's Irish Philadelphia regiment, in the darkness of the night, mistaking for rebels Capt. Mott's battery, which was in advance, sustained by Gen. Baker's Cali formia regiment and Baxter's Philadelphia Zonaves, and Col. Friedman's cavalry, fired a full volley into the troops last mentioned. killing and wounding a large number. The Col. of the regiment not knowing whence the firing came, returned it with marked effect. The horses attached to Mott's battery became unmanageable, and the tongues of the carriages broken.

Lieut. Bryant, having command of the lst section, ordered the guns loaded with grape and canister, and soon had them in range of the supposed foe, when word was sent him that he was in the company of friends. All was excitement, and a long time clapsed before the actual condition of affairs was ascertained and confidence reestablished. Several were killed and a large number wounded. Our troops while occupying the grounds vacated by the enemy have burned houses and destroyed property to a considerable amount. This will be investigated, as Mc Ciellan strongly condemned it.

The whereabouts of the enemy has not heen discovered; their pickets are discernable at distant points. The most probable theory is that the rebels are making a feign ed retreat, as they did previous to the battle of Bull Run, with the view of drawing our troops into ambuscades. Their encampments show they had at no time 100,000 men in front of Washington.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES. JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 30.

Special to the St. Louis Republican.— Lieut. Col. Thatcher, of Col. Peabody's regiment, and Lieut. Tennett of Col. Marshall's regiment, who were at Lexington, have arrived here, and give some interesting par ticulars from that place. They say the rebels can easily turn out three 12-pound ers per week at the Lexington foundry, and that they are very busy in making balls of all kinds.

They report that the rebels have a large amount of powder and ammunition of every variety buried in the vicinity of Lexington and that they have recently dug up a great deal. Two thousand pounds of loaded shell were disentombed by the rebels in Mulligan's entrenchments on the very day of the surrender. Our troops had no idea of their concealment, as they were deposited there three months before. It is said that vast amounts of ammunition are buried in different quarters of the west and south; having been sent out from Jefferson City by Ex.Gov. Jackson before he fled from here Our troops would have destroyed the powder in their possession if they had had wa-ter, or had not feared the explosion that must have proved fatal in their narrow en trenchments. A femenine secessionists of high social standing at Lexington, obtained admission to Mulligan's fortifications, disguised as a mulatto washerwoman, and took a complete sketch of the plan of the works and reported her information.

It is believed the rebels have from 40,000 to 50,000 men at Lexington, and daily re-ceiving reinforcements, and will make a stand there and wait the attack of our troops. It is supposed Price will have from 70,000 to 80,000 there, and will meet us with that number. The rebels, the two officers say, fight well, and that our mistake is there, we have always understed that fact. The rebels at Lexington are receiving provisions in quantities from the adjacent country, wagon loads are arriving every day, and they have, it is said, every means of support. Green, Rains and Parson's troops are represented as a mere mob, half clothed and without discipline, no one seeming to hold a less rank than that of colonel. Harris' soldiers. 5,000 in number, are very well drilled, and execute all their manouvers in thorough military style.

One of the rebel regiments having helped themselves to the uniforms of Col.

Mulligan's troops, are now called the Irish Lieut. Thatcher and Lieut. Tennant; leave here by boat for Lexington this morning. They will return with the wounded federal troops now in the hands of the rebels there, about one hundred in number. Before they left Lexington they obtained a written permit from Gen Sterling Price, Advices from Saline county report the rebels overrunning that section of country with scouting parties, who are impressing union citizens into the rebel service, and levying upon their goods.

Gen. Fremont went into camp yesterday morning about half a mile back of the town, and it is said will not move forward before the close of the week. The health of the soldiers is improving. Not a death occurred for three days in the hospital, an unusual occurrence, and thirty or forty will be discharged to-day. Gen. McKinstry and staff arrived here last evening. Gen. Pope is still here. Totten's battery was among the arrivals resterday. Scouts arrived last night from Warsaw, eighty miles distant, but they report nothing new. They heard that McCulloch was advancing on Jefferson by way of Linn creek.

The stars and stripes waving over Mullgan's entrenchments was pierced by fortyone bullets, but not one struck the unionpeculiar and favorable omen. Col. Richardson's regiment, now station

A RAILROAD BILL .- The railroad fare paid for the transportation of one of the Wisconsin regiments, which has just arriv ed here, was sixteen thousand dollars. Washington dispatch.

If this Wisconsin regiment had been left at home and Pennsylvania had furnished her quota of men for the Potomac, this money would have been saved.—Chicago We are somewhat surprised that Wisconsin troops should be ordered to Washington when they are so much needed nearer home. But, as we know nothing of the necessity which induces the government to call them to Washington, we make no complaint. Wisconsin soldiers are ready to light for their country wherever their comnander-in-chief shall order them.

Anus.-Three thousand stand of arms have arrived at the state armory for the use of the troops in this state. Two thousand stand will be required for the 9th and 10th regiments now encamped at Milwaukee, and one thousand for the 11th regiment now being organized at Madison.

PAY OF VOLUNTEERS .- For the information of those who wish to investigate before unlisting, we publish the following table. It is the salary of Uncle Sam's soldiers for one year, and where can a young man do better pecuniarily-to say nothing of serving his country in a noble cause :

For Bonuty.
For grant of 160 agree of land (in prospect)
Yalued, eny at $160.03

Total for the year..... There are also other considerations in volved which we have not enumerated in the above statement. The act of Congress approved July 22d, 1861, provides that " Every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer, who enters the service of the United States under the act, shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents in lieu of subsistance; and to a cavalry volunteer, twenty-five cents additiona; in lieu of forage for every twenty miles of travel from the place of his enrollment to the place of muster, and when honorably discharged an allowance at the same rate from the place of his discharge to the place of his enrollment."

Moreover, in regard to pensions for the wounded, and provision for the widows of the soldiers killed in battle, and in every essential particular, the entire volunteer force is placed upon an equal footing with the regular army.

FINE PRUIT.-Mr. F. W. Loudon, of this city, is one of the most successful cultivators of fruit in this section of country. His show at the late county fair was splendid in quality and variety. We are indebted to him for specimens of his pears and apples, grown upon dwarf stocks, which are as fine as we have ever seen. Mr. Loudon has also an extensive variety of grapes, in the raising of which he is quite successful. He says there is no doubt that the climate and soil of Wisconsin are well adapted to the perience in horticulture, through the columns of our paper.

Letters held for postage bearing old postage stamps:

Mr. R. M. Chills, Beloit, Wis. Mr. Wm. Chatworthy, Edgerton, Wis. Mr. O. Wallace, Evansville, Wis. Mr. Julien Gosselin, La Crosse, Wis. N. A. W. Howe, St. Charles, Ill. Miss A. E. Cleveland, Hutson, Wis. Mr. John R. Bayer, Blue Island, Ill. Miss Sarah B. Hopkins, Beloit, Wis. Mr. Wm. Steele, Hanover, Wis. Mrs. Philips, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. A. Paeruer, Jefferson, Wis. J. M. BURGESS, P. M.

THE ROOK AND GREEN COUNTY REGI-MENT is filling up very fast. Recruiting for the different companies is going forward rapidly in our streets. The young men are coming forward and enlisting for the defence of the country. We believe the regiment will be full within ten days, and those who think of going to the wars with their friends and acquaintances must not hesitate, or they will be too late.

A Contestry .- Mrs. Bellesfield of the town of Janesvill, has presented us with a bunch of apples, eighteen in number upon one limb, growing as close together as posible. They illustrate very well the remarkable production of fruit this year in this state. Nature seems to have done her best this season to disprove the oft-repeated assertion that " fruit cannot be raised in Wiscomsin."

Another Train,-By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the G. & C. U. R. R. have put another train upon their road from this city. It leaves here at 9: 5 P. M., and cirives at 4:45 A. M. The day express leaves here at 9:30 A. M., and arrives at 4:30 P. M. This is a convenient and direct route to the northern and central part of Illinois, and to Iowa, St. | ten up in that place. Louis, &c.

ATTENDED SENGERS! -- Singers and all persons interested in music, are cordially invited to meet at Wilson's music room, Tuesday evening, Oct. 1st, at 7 o'clock, to sing, and to determine whether there shall be a musical convention this fall. Bring the Diapaton.

Losr .- Sunday morning, Sept. 29, a pair of silver spectacles, with a black case, and Spankling's name on the outside of the case. The finder will confer a favor by leaving them at this office.

A SINGULAR CASE .- The Messra. Marcy brothers, one living in Portsmouth, N. H., the other in New Orleans, owned four ships. The southern brother hoisted the secession flag on two of them, and they were seized Reported for the Janesville Gazette. by the United States authorities. The other two, floating the stars and stripes, were captured by the rebels.

WAR MEETING .- At the Stone School House, north of Johnstown, WEDNES- | be quoted 10:20 lower. Sales of about 5,000 bushele at DAY EVENING, October 2d.

PAYING OFF TROOPS NEAR WARRINGTON. -A member of the Second Wisconsin regiment, writing on the 15th, says: The Second has just been paid off. The amount they received is about $26,000 for two months' pay, and at least one-half of this will be sent to Wisconsin in treasury notes of $5 to $10 and $20 denominations. The Fifth and other regiments received nearly an equal amount, and I presume see I quite you will send home as much. So you will have a new circulating medium. In relation to the notes, I will say that men were not asked to take them, but those who desired to send money home asked for and received Ashem instead of the gold. About one-half of the amount paid most of the regiments was in these notes.

THE WHEAT CROP IN ENGLAND .- This crop is now admitted to be short in both England and France. In relation to England the Mark Lane Express of the 9th inst., tays: " The farther we we go into the whent crop, the more certainly it appears that the yield is short." It further says that "the extraordinary claims of France have placed our markets in a position very unexpected by millers." Both France and England are now dependant upon the northwest for breadstaffs, and without a supply from us the poor of those countries will suffer for food. Under these circumstances it is not all probable they will be in a hurry to recognise the southern confederacy .-Wheat has some power in the world as well as cotton. Non-intercourse, which would suraly follow such a recognition, would stop the export of wheat, and this added to the want of cotton, would produce famine and rebellion in the countries of Europe. We think they are under pretty good bonds to keep quiet while we put down the rebellion.

THE SCANDINAVIAN BRIGADE .- The Chicago Journal says: Capt. Andrew Torkilson, of this city, is raising a company to be attached to the Scandinavian brigade, now in camp at Madison, Wis. The company will be called the Olaf's Rifles. The recruiting office is at No. 44 North Wells street. Capt. Torkilson is well known in this city, where he has for sometime been a policeman, and will experience little diffidulty, we apprehend, in the organization of his company. The brigade to which it is to be attached is to be composed mainly of Swedes, Norwegians and Danes. Cot. K. K. Jones, long a resident of Chicago and Manitowoo, has been commissioned as lientenant colonel of the brigade, by Gov.

FATAL BITE OF A RATTLETNAKE,-A man named John Lill, from Central Ohio, while at the Dayton fair on the 12th, visited one of the "side shows" which always infest such places, and while amusing himself, concluded to try the temper of a rattlesnake by putting his hand in its cage, when the reptile bit him on the finger, and infused into his system such virulent poison that the unfortunate man died in ten minutes. His body was sent to his

The Second has just been paid off. The amount they received is about $26,000 for two months pay, and at least one half of this will be sent to Wisconsin in treasury notes of $5 to $10 and $20 denominations. The Fifth and other regiments received nearly an equal amount, and I presume will send home as much. So you will have a new circulating medium. In relation to the notes, I will say that men were not asked to take them, but those who desired them instead of the gold. About one-half of the amount paid most of the regiments was in these notes.

THE WHEAT CROP IN ENGLAND .- This crop is now admitted to be short in both England and France. In relation to Engl Lind the Mark Lane Express of the 9th inst., says: " The farther we we go into the wheat crop, the more certainly it appears that the yield is short." It further says that "the extraordinary claims of France have placed our markets in a position very unexpected by millers." We have made the above-Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefiting the public and corrected. The public have been swindled by spurlous mechines made in imitation of ours. The motal in them, fiften the iron casting to the swallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to de their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always in bletto get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainly of correct actions at all rates of peed, simplicity of construction, grant durability and repudity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine those estimated to perfect on the construction, grant durability and repudity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine those casmod to perfect out of this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well as repaid as well as show rates of speed, but last long in the fines to send our machines, as made by us, will carn more money with less labor than any others, whether in limitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other mechine as a gift.

DAILY GAZETTE.

GEN. FREMONT'S CARE OF HIS ARMY.—
A good General takes good care of his soldiers, and in this respect General Fremont cannot be excelled. In proof of this, we have just seen two orders, given at head-quarters to-day. The first is to provide every regiment in the Western Department with twelve of Irwin's camp cots, one of the best contrivances of the day for the comfort of the sirk and wounded. They are fort of the sick and wounded. They are LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS

MAY NOW BE SEEN AT THE

The provided with straps, and so arranged as to take the place of "stretchers" on the battle field. They weigh but twenty pounds, and can be packed so closely that one man can carry six of them in his arms without difficulty. No one but a soldier can fully estimate the value of such cots to a regiment on the march. They will prevent as much sickness as the hospital will cure; for to men just beginning to break down, a single night's rest, in a comfortable bed, is often enough to prevent a fever. As the cot takes the place of the "stretcher," and costs less than half, its introduction is in every way a gain.

The other orderalluded to is for the proper burial of the dead. An arrangement has been entered into with John A. Smithers, undertaker, and sexton for the Wesleyan Cemetery, under which he will attend to the burial of all who die in the hospitals and camps of this vicinity, in a proper and becoming manner. A neat and strong cof-fin, a separate grave in a chartered cemetery, which can never be disturbed, and all the decencies of interment, are thus secured to every soldier who dies in or near St. Louis. An exact and perfect record will be kept in the cemetery books (which are models of accuracy) of every individual, his name, state, number of regiment. &c. A headboard will be placed at every grave, with the initials of the name, and a number corresponding with that on the record, so that the friends of the deceased may at any time identify and remove the remains.

This is as it should be, and it is proper to say that this whole arrangement had been ordered previously to the receipt of Secretary Cameron's order, on the same subject, and is due to the thoughtfulness of General Fremont. Perhaps the strictness of the barricade, of which we hear so much complaint, is in part explained by a desire to give personal attention to details such as the above. If so, whoever may find fault, the soldiers and their friends at home will thank him all the more; and if the exigencies of the service require him to take the field, he will find that his whole army are ready to be Fremont's Guards .- St. Louis

Perilogs Adventure-A Boy Lost in FOURTH LAKE.—About noon yesterday, Mr. John Kimball, a moulder in Skinner's Foundry, with his son Martin, a boy about 1st Premiums Awarded to this College fourteen years old, and a man named Abraham Hommell, started in a sail boat from the foundry to cross the lake. They were going on a hunting excursion. Before reaching the middle of the lake, a squall struck them and capsized the boat. The wind continued blowing heavily, and the lake was rough. They succeeded in get ting the boat righted, the mast having been removed, but could not get out the water. It soon overturned again. They then attempted to get on the bottom, when it once more righted, only to roll over with the next heavy wave, and right again with another. Thus for hours they were kept in a constant struggle for life. The water was cold, and the wind chilly. At the end of a couple of hours the boy, who had been hopeful while the men despaired of their lives, was completely exhausted. His father took him in his arms, and did everything in his power to save him, but after a time found he was dead. Still holding his lifeless boy, Kimball clung to the boat with his companion, the wind slowly drifting them across the lake toward the farther shore. When within less than half a mile of the land, a heavy wave struck them, the boat rolled over again, and the father, almost powerless with fatigue and benumbed with cold, lost hold of the body of his boy, which sank to the bottom. The boat with the two men reached the shore at about six o'clock, after they had been in the water six hours. Besides the exhaustion consequent upon continued physical exertion, and the effect of water and cold, they were severely bruised and lacerated by the sharp edges of the boat as it rolled over from time to time.

PANIC IN THE SECEDED STATES .- The Philadelphia Press says : Late information, upon which we can rely, authorizes us to state that a general panic has taken place in the seconded states since Monday last. The preparations of the federal government to seize certain important posts on the southern coast, and the creasing feeling. gathered between Richmond and the feder are suffering. Nothing prevents an out-burst in favor of the Union in North Carolina, save the invasion of that state by the South Carolina troops; and such men as I AM now over 60 years of age. Three years since I became blind from Cataract in both eyes. Son after I became blind an attempt to restore my sight by an operation was made in this sity, which was unsuccessful. Hearing of the reputation of Dr. Folsom, as a skillful oculist, I was induced to consult him, though with very little hopes of relief. The doctor proposed an operation, to which I consented, which resulted in almost Perfect Restoration of Sight to one eye. He afterwards performed an operation on the other eye with success. I am now enjoying the Inestinable blessing of good vision, and a much better general stato of health than before.

Movement on the Potomac.

Our troops at Arlington Heights, to the number of 20,000, moved forward from their advanced position, on Saturday, and occupied Munson's Hill, which is five miles from Fort Corcoran; and also to Fall's Church, which is a mile further from Fort Corcoran, and about four miles northwest of Monson's Hill. At the same time 20,000 troops cross-and about four miles northwest of Manson's Hill. At the same time 20,000 troops crossed over the Potomac from Washington and occupied the places of those sent forward. The much boasted fort of the rebels on Munson's Hill was a sham. There were no guns there at all. There were no confederate troops in sight from our most advanced posts. It is supposed that the confederates have abandoned their positions, either for the purpose of drawing the federal troops within reach of their batteries, or as a feint to attract attention while they attempt to cross the Potomac. It is an important movement, and must be followed by others of greater magnitude in a short time.

**Likemperance in the Army.**

In addition to having 6,000 of his best troops ordered to Washington at a critical moment, Gen. Fremont appears to be hampered by inefficient and incompetent officers in his department, some of wrom, it is said, are among his aids. Not long since Gen. Hurlbut lost the control of Northern Missonri in consequence of drankenness. It was the confusion incident upon this state of things which probably induced Price to march to Lexington at the time he did so. It now appears that Gen. Sturgis is in the habit of drinking to excess, and to tax cause we may attribute his singular and in explicable movements. A correspondent says he saw him at St. Joseph in the street drunk, and engaged in a noisy quarrel with some of the officers. This accounts for the fact that he was not on hand. some of the officers. This accounts for the fact that he was not on hand.

Intemperance in the army is the chief cause of all our disasters. There is not the slightest doubt that we should have wen the hattle at Bull Run if General Miles, the commander of the reserve, had not been been drouk. So we go on from one misfortune to another, exused by the demon intemperance, until it becomes absolutely necessary that something should be done to stop the evil, if we ever expect to put down the relection. When general officers are permitted to indulge with impunity in this debasing habit, it is not at all surprising that those lower down, at the head of regiments and companies, should be led away at the example of their higher officers. So it is no encommon thing to see officers of the regular srmy mixing in scenes of debauchery in the streets of towns where they have commands, to the disgust of patriotic people, and to the great detriment of Intemperance in the army is the chief set they have command, to the disgust of paterness of the paterness of the

The general features of the seige and surrender of Lexington, under the command of Colonel Muligan, of Chicago, have already been published, but it the accounts are so grossly incorrect and embrace so much of contradiction and misratement, that a clear and decaded description will not be considered amiss by the reading public. This I am prejuated to give.

Col. Mulligan's command arrived in Lexington on the 8th of September, considering of the Irish brigade, 1,600 men; Col. Marchad's cavalry, 500 men; the thirteenth Missouri regiment, 600 men; the thirteenth Missouri regiment, 600 men; the flome Gunuts, 300 men, and a company of innependent rangers, numbering 81 men. These, with teamsters and the usual at endants of the camp, swelled the force to 2.700 men, for which number daily rathous were issued. The artillery consisted of five six pounders, and two or three old morters, one of which dated back to 1812, and bore honorable scars received in the lattle of New Orleans. The mortary were procuried at Lexington, but were useless, as they required six-inch shell, of which none were to be hed. The men were indifferently armed. The Irish brigade had a poor quality of muskets, the cavalry had nothing but subres and horse-piatois, and the rest were short in all their equipments. With these drawbacks to contend against, they were full of five and animation, and, with a feeling of de-perate eagences, a waited the approach of a fee who brought with him almost overwhelming numbers.

The cavalry were employed during several days in foraging and scorting through the neighboring country. Among the rebel institutions upon which they levied with effect were the banks of Lexington and Warrentown, from which $230,000 in specus was taken Of this amount $290,000 was taken from one bank at Warrentown.

THE ADVANCE OF THE ENEMY.

THE ADVANCE OF THE ENEMY.

White engaged in this profitable foraging, intelligence was received that Gen. Hains was advancing upon Lex ington with a force of 8 c00 men. Scouts were sent ou to reconnoitre, who returned in haste, confirming the statement, having had an encounter with the rebe sconts, in which thus lost one man, who was shot from his horse during the melee. Co. Mullsgan immediately collected his forage, seized what provisions and imple ments of labor he could find, and made a forced march ments of table an equinonce situated about three miles from the College Hill, an eminence situated about three miles from the town, near the river bluff, on the summit of which stood a brick building, which was partially fortified for the protection of the troops that had for some time been in that vicinity previous to Col. Mulli-forthed for the protection of the troops that had not some time been in that vicinity provious to Col. Mulligan sarrival.

The onemy were only three miles in the rear when this point was gained, and immediately showed themselves in front of the fortifications, at a trepectable distance. Col. Mulligan detached two companies, and ordered a charge on a body of the chemy two were enscended on a burying ground. Our men made a running charge under a heavy firing or muskerry, and routed the rebels from their position. They were two or three hundred in number, acting as an outpost, and as soo, as they received the charge they fell back into as adjacent confidel, where the main body lay. The alarm was given and the core-field bristled with armed soldiers in a moment, who awarmed forth and tell upon our little body of men like an avalanche. In interchments without serious loss. In the afternoon two companies of infantry and two companies of cavalry were sent out to reconneitre. They met the enemy in force, and had a skirmish which ended in our men retreating to the intrenchments under a heavy fire of muskerry, which killed some and wound several.

The enemy made no forther attack, but; retired to a locality near the town known as the fair ground, where they camped and waited reinforcements. They supposed, at this time, that the federal force was nearly equal to their own, and did not dare attack it in a fortined position. They expected heavy reinfo coments, which numediately commenced coming in form all directions, in large and small bodies, and even singly and in parties of ten and twenty. In this way their numbers well-d rapidly

The FORMIFICATIONS.

Col. Mulligan at once commenced throwing up extensive fortifications. The embankment had been run and, after that, they slept in the tremenes control.

On the ITth, four days after the seige commenced fen. Price sent in a flag of truce. That personage has ar ived and taken command of the rebel army, which was now angmented to atout 25,009 men. He demand

THE SEIGE AND SURRENDER OF LEXINGTON.

Full and Circumstantial Accounts of the Event.

Quincy, Sept. 25, 1861

The morning of the 19th opened with cannonading and muskerry. Mulligan wasted no powder, but gave orders to use it only when there was a chance of doing execution. The men were suffering greatly from thirst, but they gave up what water they had to the wounded. A number of men were killed by the enemy's sharpshoters in the heroic attempt to get water from the outside springs for the wounded. The soldiers obtained what they could by wringing their biankets, which had been spread out to catch the rain. As the blankets had been slept in nor some months, the nature of the fluid will give an idea of the strait the men were in.

had been slept in for some months, the nature of the fluid will give an idea of the strait the men were in.

Col. Mulligan now exerted himself to the utmost to infuse the soldiers with the heroic forbearance which animated his own breast. He drank no more water than the rest, but endured the page of thirst with them. He was dressed in an old green jacket, and without an insigns to office about num, except his trusty sword, he stalked here and there, regardless of danger, exposed to the hottest fire, and coasleady imploring the men to keep their courage up. He had no hope of victory, but his brave spirit revolted at the idea of surrender. He disdained to walk in the trenches, whore safety was sure, but trod the high ground in the reat, where the bullets flow like halistones, breddess of the entroaties of the soldiers, who followed his manly form with their wondering, eyes, and sent up shouts of acclamation at his noble daring.

Through all this he was cool and determined. Not a breath of excitoment passed his lips, and his words were those which appealed to the unde standing of every man under his command. He was constantly under motion, passing along the introchments from ond to end, with commands and injunctions to all he met, and displaying a calm, imposing confidence in his bearing which was the strength of a thousand men in that trying hour. No wonder that his soldiers work-pped him, and were nerved to noble deeds of daring and endurance.

and were nerved to noble deeds of during and endurance The enemy fired hot shot at the college building, an set it on fire a number of times. The provisions were stored within it, and the whole force were compelled to use their exertions in removing them and extinguishuse their exertions in removing them and continued ing the flames.

A flag of truce came in at 8 o'clock with propositions to allow time to remove the dead and bury them. The conditions were accepted, and a number of Mulligan's nien, assisted the enemy in collecting the dead, which were strewn in large numbers on the slope of the hill. The truce lasted until 12o'clock, when the cannonading opened again with full vigor.

Boston, Sept. 28. General Butler and staff leave this city this evening, and will reach New York tomorrow morning.

Washington, Sept. 28.

The rebels have declared their intention o obstruct the passage of the Potomac river, and have diligently erected batteries and cleared woods from the Virginia shores so as to command full sweep on that stream. So effectively have their measures been tacen that vessels can no longer pass up or down without undergoing a destructive fire, and navigation is actually closed. The stoppage will probably be but temporary, or government will doubtless take imme-liate measures for reopening navigation. Information has been received here to the effect that the enemy declare their intention to destroy the large war steamer Pensacola now at Washington navy yard when she attempts to go to sea. Large numbers of suspected persons in this city have been confined by order of the government in prirate houses.

There are 4,000 horses yet remaining in he government stock yard in this city. The Union men of Anne Arundle county, Maryland, hold a grand mass meeting to-

on parole, reached here last night. They left Lexington on Thursday, where Price then was. The wounded soldiers are being ragement with the rebels, at Papinsville, sent down to St. Louis by steamboat. The Marshall's officers complain bitterly of his conduct, and accuse him of inefficiency, and even worse. They will never serve under him again. Mulligan is represented as brave, gallant and unskillful. The steam boats were captured without material resistance. Many officers advised Mulligan to cross to the north side of the river before the siege began; at least to send the horses over. Seven of Marshall's men wanted permission to mount the regiment and charge through the enemy's lines, retreating to Se dalia, 50 miles, but Marshall refused. Mulligan expected reinforcements until too late. Marshall is liberated on parole, but Mulligan is still a prisoner. McCulloch is reported at Osceola, marching north. On Wednesday, the 25th, he expected to form a junction with Price, near Warrensburgh. By to morrow their combined forces will reach forty thousand. It is believed they will offer Fremont battle near Georgetown. If they are defeated, the war may be considered over in Missouri for this season. If they retreat without fighting they will be pursued into Arkansas, and the state will be cleared of rebel troops .-Officers and soldiers here are confident of achieving a great victory. There will be no are now so employed as to show that they Bull Run panics.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 28. There is no reliable news of interest from Boonville, Georgetown, Glasgow, Rolla, or other prominent points. Captain Walter, of Col. Marshall's regiment, who was at Lexington, arrived this forenoon, having left there Thursday noon. He saw no rebel troops between Lexington and Sedalia, and says the main body of Price's forces was there when he departed, and also says it is believed they intend to make a stand and meet our troops there as the vicinity is well calculated, from the streams and deep, miry banks, without bridges, to trouble our advancing army. All the federal officers were released on parole but Col. Mulligan, who refused to give his for private reasons.

Price probably has 35,000 men, and the rebels on Thursday confidently expected that Hardee with 8,000 or 9,000, and Mc-Culloch with 10,000 men were within two or three days march of Lexington. They have no faith in McCullock as a general out think he is very effective with a small body of men. Ten thousand rebels were sent across the Missouri river from Lexington on Thursday, with the avowed intention of attacking Lane, who is reported on this The seal of the state and public records are in the hands of the rebels. Our troops had no cartridges, grape or other shot, and no shells left at the time of surrender, but lost two or three hundred

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. Gov. Morgan of New York was yesterday appointed major general of volunteers, and W. K. Strong appointed brigadier general. It is understood the appointments were made by the special request of Mr. Seward. Mr. Strong is a wool dealer, and Gov. Morga a wet grocer, and both devoted politicians. It is not known whether these gentlemen are to have commands as signed them. Fourteen other brigadiers were made at the instance of Mr. Cameron, and were all from the regular army. Col. Kelly of New York, who has been a prisoner in Richmond, had a long interview with the President and cabinet yesterd-y, and was enjoined not to make public his statement. He puts the rebel force in Virginin at three hundred thousand, and every thing else in proportion; but as he was a close prisoner while in Richmond, it is difficult to imagine how he can be well informed.

Mr. Rister, a merchant from Pennsylvania, captured at Winchester ten weeks ago, was also released by order of J. P. Benjamin, now acting rebel secretary of war. Bishop Pope will probably succeed Walkor ar rebel secretary of war.

No more federal prisoners are to be sent to North Carolina, but 150 per day are sent to New Orleans and Charleston.

Wm. O'Donohue, orderly sergeant in the 69th, Meagher's company, with two others, escaped from Richmond on the 18th. They changed their clothing, got into a cellar of the prison warehouse, and when the guard had passed a comrade gave the signal, and they went to the gate, remaining there till the guard came round, and he thinking they were mere loafers, ordered them away. After enduring hardships and resorting to many stratagems, they arrived here last night. In a room in the tobacco warehouse, 30 by 60 feet, there are one hundred and fifty prisoners without bedding, and food sent them unfit to eat. Several are ill with syphoid fever. Several were shot, and two illed for looking out at the windows. Shinplaster counterfeiting is carried on

The Colorado remained at Pickens-the Niagara and Water Witch at Pickens—tuo South West Pass.

Gov. Washington, Sept. 29. Detachments from Gen. Richardson's, Keyes' and Wadsworth's brigades, and also rom Gen. Franklin's division, are now ocrupying Monson's Hill.

Larry this morning the pickets from Gen. Smith's division advanced to, and one hun-fred occupy Fall's church. Neither this nor preceding movements met with any opposition whatever, as the rebel army had, on Friday night, retired from the whole line of their positions on the line of Washington. Upton's Hill, this side of Fall's hurch, is necessarily included among the points now held by the federal forces.

The positions at Munson's and Murra?' Hills afforded the rebels unobstructed views of all our fortifications and other defences. Herald's Special.-There was a long seasion of the cabinet to-day. Gen. McClel lan was present.

Our pickets at Chain Bridge are gradual. y advancing and forcing the enemy slowly towards Fails Church. The enemy is in great force there. Munson's and Mason's Hills have been evacuated by the rebels, and together with Upton's Hill, are now occupied by our troops in large force, under Gen. McDowell. The rebels have retired about four miles back; all the rebel entrenchments fronting Arlington are abaudoned and now occupied by the federalists It is reported that Johnston, with 27,000 troops, is moving from Leesburg towards the river, and the rebels are pushing large torces towards the ferry, and in the neighborhood of Poolsville, and down the river towards Aquia Creck. The indications are that they will cross the river immediately. The weather is cold and prisoners state that the rebels are suffering from it. There were no signs to show that they had ever mounted any guus. Our troops do not merely intend to temporarily occupy their present positions.

The advance of Gen. Smith upon Fall's Church from Chain Bridge was accompanied by events of the most deplorable char-By some unaccountable blunder acter. Col. Owen's Irish Philadelphia regiment, in the darkness of the night, mistaking for rebels Capt. Mott's battery, which was in advance, sustained by Gen. Baker's Cali formia regiment and Baxter's Philadelphia Zouaves, and Col. Friedman's cavalry, fired a full volley into the troops last mentioned, killing and wounding a large number. The Col. of the regiment not knowing whence the firing came, returned it with marked effect. The horses attached to Mott's battery became unmanageable, and the tongues f the carriages broken.

Lieut. Bryant, having command of the Ist section, ordered the guns loaded with grape and canister, and soon had them in ange of the supposed foe, when word was sent him that he was in the company of friends. All was excitement, and a long time clapsed before the actual condition of affairs was ascertained and confidence reestablished. Several were killed and large number wounded.

Our troops while occupying the grounds vacated by the enemy have burned houses and destroyed property to a considerable amount. This will be investigated, as Mc Ciellan strongly condemned it.

The whereabouts of the enemy has not been discovered; their pickets are discern able at distant points. The most probable theory is that the rebels are making a feigned retreat, as they did previous to the battle of Bull Run, with the view of drawing our troops into ambuscades. Their encamp nents show they had at no time 100.000 men in front of Washington.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES. JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 30.

Special to the St. Louis Republican .-Lieut. Col. Thatcher, of Col. Peabody's regiment, and Lieut. Tenuett of Col. Marshall's regiment, who were at Lexington, have ar-

The fortifications are progressing rapid- rived here, and give some interesting particulars from that place. They say the rebels can easily turn out three 12-pounders per week at the Lexington foundry, and that they are very busy in making balls of all kinds.

They report that the rebels have a large amount of powder and ammunition of every variety buried in the vicinity of Lexington, and that they have recently dug up a great deal. Two thousand pounds of loaded shell were disentombed by the rebels in Mulligan's entrenchments on the very day of the surrender. Our troops had no idea of their concealment, as they were deposited there three months before. It is said that vast amounts of ammunition are buried in different quarters of the west and south; having been sent out from Jefferson City by Ex-Gov. Jackson before he fled from here Our troops would have destroyed the pow-der in their possession if they had had water, or had not feared the explosion that must have proved fatal in their narrow cutrenchments.

A femenine secessionists of high social standing at Lexington, obtained admission to Mulligan's fortifications, disguised as a mulatto washerwoman, and took a complete sketch of the plan of the works and report ed her information.

It is believed the rebels have from 40,000 to 50,000 men at Lexington, and daily receiving reinforcements, and will make a stand there and wait the attack of our troops. It is supposed Price will have from 70,000 to 80,000 there, and will meet us with that number. The rebels, the two officers say fight well, and that our mistake is there, we have always understed that fact. The reb els at Lexington are receiving provisions in quantities from the adjacent country, wagon loads are arriving every day, and they have, it is said, every means of support. Green, Rains and Parson's troops are represented as a mere mob, half clothed and without discipline, no one seeming to hold a less rank than that of colonel. Harris' soldiers, 5,000 in number, are very well drilled, and execute all their manuavers in thorough military style. One of the rebel regiments having help ed themselves to the uniforms of Col. Mulligan's troops, are now called the Irish Lieut. Thatcher and Lieut. Tenuant, leave here by boat for Lexington this morning. They will return with the wounded federal troops now in the hands of the rebels there, about one hundred in number. Before they left Lexington they obtained a written permit from Gen. Sterling Price, granting protection to any boats which might go to Lexington for that purpose. Gen. Fremont has approved of this action, and they will start this morning. These officers say our troops were treated most kindly by the rebel officers, whom they pronounce high toned, kind and generous gen tlemen.

The gallant Col. Mulligan, White and Grover, are highly eulogized, and all our soldiers are enthusiastic in their praise. Major Steele who had command of the regular troops at Wilson's creek, has received permission to take command of the 8th Iowa regiment. It is understood that his battalion of regulars will be incorporated into it. Advices from Saline county report the rebels overrunning that section of country with scouting parties, who are impressing union citizens into the rebel service, and levying npon their goods.

Gen. Fremont went into camp yesterday morning about half a mile back of the town, and itais said will not move forward before the close of the week. The health of the soldiers is improving. Not a death occurred for three days in the hospital, an unu-It is estimated that 60,000 Pennsylvania sual occurrence, and thirty or forty win be volunteers have already culisted in other discharged to-day. PAY OF VOLUNTEERS.—For the information of those who wish to investigate before enlisting, we publish the following table. It is the salary of Uncle Sam's soldiers for one year, and where can a young man do better pecuniarily—to say nothing of serving his country in a noble cause :

For Bouuty...
For grant of 180 acres of land (in prospect) Valued, say at ... $160 00

Total for the year. .. $602 00 There are also other considerations in volved which we have not enumerated in the above statement. The act of Congress approved July 22d, 1861, provides that "Every volunteer, Lon-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer, who enters the service of the United States under the act, shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents in lieu of subsistance; and to a cavalry volunteer, twenty-five cents additiona; in lieu of forage for every twenty miles of travel from the place of his enrollment to the place of muster, and when honorably discharged an allowance at the same rate from the place of his discharge to the place of his enrollment."

Moreover, in regard to pensions for the wounded, and provision for the widows of the soldiers killed in battle, and in every essential particular, the entire volunteer force is placed upon an equal footing with the regular army.

captured by the rebels. WAR MEETING .- At the Stone School DAY EVENING, October 2d.

PAYING OFF TROOPS NEAR WASHINGTON. -A member of the Second Wiscousin regiment, writing on the 15th, says:

The Second has just been paid off. The amount they received is about $26,000 for two months' pay, and at least one-half of this will be sent to Wisconsin in treasury notes of $5 to $10 and $20 denominations. The Fifth and other regiments received nearly an equal amount, and I presume will send home as much. So you will have a new circulating medium. In relation to the notes, I will say that men were not naked to take them, but those who desired to serd money home asked for and received them instead of the gold. About one-half of the amount paid most of the regiments was in these notes.

THE WHEAT CROP IN ENGLAND .- This crop is now admitted to be short in both England and France. In relation to Engl land the Mark Lane Express of the 9th inst., says: " The farther we we go into the wheat crop, the more certainly it appears that the yield is short." It further says that "the extraordinary claims of France have placed our markets in a position very unexpected by millers." Both France and England are now dependent upon the northwest for breadstuffs, and without a supply from us the poor of those countries will suffer for food. Under these circumstances it is not all probable they will be in a hurry to recognise the southern confederacy .-Wheat has some power in the world as well as cotton. Non-intercourse, which would surely follow such a recognition, would stop the export of wheat, and this added to the want of cotton, would produce famine and rebellion in the countries of Europe. We think they are under pretty good bonds to keep quiet while we put down the rebellion.

THE SCANDINAVIAN BRIGADE.-The Chicago Journal says: Capt. Andrew Torkilson, of this city, is raising a company to be attached to the Scandinavian brigade, now in camp at Madison, Wis. The company will be called the Olaf's Rifles. The recruiting office is at No. 44 North Wells street. Capt. Torkilson is well known in this city, where he has for sometime been a policeman, and will experience little diffidulty, we apprehend, in the organization of his company. The brigade to which it is to be attached is to be composed mainly of Swedes, Norwegians and Danes. Col. K. K. Jones, long a resident of Chicago and Manitowoc, has been commissioned as lientenent colonel of the brigade, by Gov. Randall.

FATAL BITE OF A RATTLETNAKE .- A man named John Hill, from Central Ohio, while at the Dayton fair on the 12th, visit-SHE IS EVER PROGRESSIVE ed one of the "side shows" which always infest such places, and while amusing himself, concluded to try the temper of a rattlesnake by putting his hand in its cage, when the reptile bit him on the finger, and infused into his system such virulent poison that the unfortunate man died in ten minutes. His body was sent to his relatives.

THE CHURCHES IN MICHIGAN,-At the fifteenth annual meeting of the District Church, the annual orator stated that the copal, 33,653; Presbyterians, 8,315; Baptist, (close communion) 13,011 ;(free will,) 1,000; Protestant Episcopal, 2,396; Congregational, 7,426; minor denominations,

A GERMAN PAPER IN MILWAUKEE.-We are in the receipt of a large and well filled daily German paper from Milwaukee, called the "Herold," which is published by W. W. Coleman, and edited by Bernhard Domschke. It is patriotic in tone, edited with ability, and contains a large amount of reading. The terms of the Herold are-daily, So per annum; weekly $2.

Corrow.-It is reported that over ten thousand bales of contraband cotton are now lying at Apalachicola, Florida. Apalachicola can easily be taken by a naval for the different companies is going forward force, and so can the ten thousand bales of rapidly in our streets. The young men are 12th inst. there were ten thousand three cotton-cash value, $1,100,000. On the coming forward and enlisting for the de- hundred and thirty bales in New Orleans, which in the north would be worth $1,360.

> GREAT TELEGRAPHIC FEAT. - Dispatches were lately sent from London directly to the Russian ports of Taganrog, on the Sea of Azoff, a distance of two thousand five hundred miles, without the loss of a perceptible portion of time, as was found by comparing the chronometers of both offices.

ANOTHER BIG GUN .-- A large gun, cast at state. Nuture seems to have done her the West Point Foundry, weighing six tons, best this season to disprove the oft-repeated and capable of throwing a ball weighing assertion that "fruit cannot be raised in 250 pounds, was shipped Friday at New York for Washington.

> CARTRIDGES FOR THE WEST .- The Indianapolis arsenal commenced operations for Gen. Frement on Monday, and will turn out one hundred thousand cartridges a day.

Mr. J. B. Pond, of the Markesan Journal, has enlisted for the war, and is convenient and direct route to the northern second lieutenant of a company being gotten up in that place.

THEIR AGES .- Gen. McClellan is not yet 36; Gen. Frement is under 48; Gen. Lyon Banks is 44 : and Gen. McDowell is near 40.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least tabor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid has well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with test labor than any others, whether in inflictation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

At the same election the question will be taken upon the approval, by the people, of the amondments proposed to the General Laws of 1861, as amonded by chapter 242 of the General Laws of 1861, as amonded by chapter 1 of the General Laws of the Extra Session of 1861, as follows:

CHAPTER 242. AS AMENDED BY CHAPTER I. EXTRA SESSION. AN ACT to amend the General Banking Law, and the neveral acts amendatory thereof.

The People of the State of Wisconein represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact os follows:

Secrios 1. Section 22 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, with the thereunto belonging amendment, (see chapter 98 of the general laws of 1858,) is hereby amended as follows: by striking out the following words:

Said stocks to be valued at a rate to be estimated and chapter so in the general color of the following words: chair stokes to be valued at a rate to be estimated and governed by the average rate at which said stocks have been sold in the city of New York, within the next six months preceding the time when such stocks may be left on depos te with the comptroller." By striking out the words "equal to," and inserting after the words "not exceeding," the words "in value." By striking out the following words: "But such public stocks shall in all cases be, or be made to be equal to a stock producing six per cent per annum; and it shall not be tavilif for the bank comptroller to take such stock at a rate above its par value, nor above its current market value in the city of New York at the time of deposite, by such person or association of persons:" and by inserting in lieuthersof the following: "and it shall be lawful for the bank comptroller to issue for public stock which have been ranging at or above par during the learning to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks; and up to the time of deposite in the New York market, circulating notes up to the par value of said stocks; ranging below par in said market, more circulation than ninety per cent of the current market value of said stocks at the time of deposite, nor more than ninety per cent of the average market value during the last six months have been at and above as well as below par, the comptroller shall not issue more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months nor in any event more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months nor in any event more than ninety per cent of the average value during the last six months nor in any event more than ninety per cent of the par value of such stocks:" so that the said section shall beneforth read as follows: "Whenever, hereafter, any person or association of persons, formed for the provisions of this chapter, that diffy seegle and transer in the to the treasurer of this state, any portion of the public stocks issued or to be issued by the United States or any state stocks, on which full interest is annually mid, such person or association of persons shall be entitled to receive from the bank comptroller an amount of such in any such bank or banking association, shall be held, in any such bank or banking association, shall be held, If HE above are First Class, justily popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solidit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superpriors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in Now York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below part, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railread, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueloss. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mixlead by publishing partial and one-rided statements of their conditions, and without a cash surplies of their conditions, and without a cash surplies on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, need off or the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, shey claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at lees rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a cortainty given instead of an all conditions. The conditions are the first day of Becomber, 1861, the little States.

**Sec 3. Section 40 of chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended by inserting between the words "located" and "to," in the 19th line of said section, the words "or to the judge at chambers."

**Sec 4. Every bank and banking association now organized in this state, and all banks and banking associations that shall be organized before the 1st of day December, 1861, except such banks and banking associations as are or may hereafter be located in the cities of Milwaukee and Madison, shall, on or before said first day of December next, appoint an agent, who shall keep an office in the city of Milwaukee or in the city of Madison, for the redemption of all circulating notes issued by such bank or banking association, which shalt be presented to such agent for payment or redemption.

for the redemption of all circulating thotes issued by such bank or banking association, which shall be presented to such agent for payment or redemption.

Sec. 5. The appointment of such agent shall be made in writing, and such written appointment shall be delivered to the bank comptroller on or before said first day of Becember next, who shall file the same in his office. If any bank or banking association shall neglect or refuse to appoint such agent within the time above mentioned, the bank comptroller shall appoint such agent for such bank or banking association.

Sec. 6. The bank comptroller shall, immediately after said first day of Becember next, during such time as he may deem advisable, publish a list of such agents in one daily newspaper published in the city of Midwaukee, the exposes whereof shall be equally divided among the several banks or banking associations so published, and be paid by them to the comptroller on demand, under penalty of forfeiture of one bundied dollars, to be collected and applied as provided in respect to the forfeiture named in section 18, chapter 71, of the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 7. Every bank or banking association here-

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and nonrable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage. Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.
